

University of Memphis Art Education Program
 Dr. Donalyn Heise
 ART 4427 PRW PRE POST SURVEY - FALL 2008

		strongly agree	agree	no opinion	disagree	strongly disagree
1 I feel competent teaching architecture in a K12 class	Prior After	60%	70%		20%	10%
2 I feel competent teaching students about the life and work of Paul R. Williams	Prior After	50%	20%	10%	20%	50%
3 I could describe 5 or more interesting facts about the life and work of Paul R. Williams	Prior After		10%	10%	10%	70%
4 I have a clear understanding of teaching the theme "a sense of place"	Prior After	50%	40%			10%
5 I have a clear understanding of teaching the theme "overcoming obstacles"	Prior After	40%	40%		50%	10%
		20%	50%		30%
		40%	60%

Comments (after participating in this unit):

To teach. To know. Must one know to teach? Aren't all teacher's considered the greatest learners? Why teach, why learn . . . If I already know? The one who absolutely "knows", they are the ones who probably know the least. Who knows?

Enjoyed this artist & subject. I learned a lot.

P.R. Williams has been an interesting architect to learn about as well as an interesting character to include in a lesson plan.

I was glad to have this assignment so that I had a chance to learn more architects.

I would have liked to receive more information on the contemporary peer architects to better understand the obstacles that Paul R. Williams had to overcome and to better understand the periods ideals in place that refer to their sense of place.